Thalassemia (Greek/Italian) _____

Tay-Sach's (Jewish) _____

If yes to any of the above, were you determined a carrier? N/A

How would you describe your personality and temperament? I am very funny and entertaining. Everyone has told me I should be on TV. I am very outgoing, and have always been mature for my age. I am also very affectionate and compassionate. I absolutely love animals and kids.

What is your philosophy of life? You only live once, so make the best out of everything you do, and never take anyone or anything for granted. My kids are the best thing that has ever happened to me.

What qualities and characteristics would you hope the recipient parents possess? a caring and tender heart, an open mind, patience, and the true desire to have a baby to love and take very good care of.

How does it make you feel at the possibility of their offspring knowing about the donation? I would like to remain anonymous. When I give my egg to the recipient, it is from then on her child.

How would you describe your childhood? Wonderful. I was very spoiled and very well taken care of. My mom has always been my best friend, and I was always very active in dance classes. I was very loved and always received a lot of affection and attention.

What is the earliest memory you hold as a child? Playing at my favorite park in Dallas, I called it the park with the dirt. I went there regularly.

What was it like growing up in your family? Happy. I was always out and about and traveling. I had a very privileged childhood

What religion did you belong to as a child? Christian

When I Was A Child:

My favorite thing to do was: “go bye bye

At home I was expected to: respect my elders, do some chores, be responsible, obey rules

My parents were strict about: staying out late, being very careful

My parents taught me to value: myself, my friends, and my privileges

What I loved most about my father was: his sweet personality.

What I loved most about my mother was: her being my mother and my best friend

My favorite relatives were: Omi “grandmother” and Andrew my cousin

I loved to visit: Omi and my father

In comparison to others I was: very bright, outgoing, and funny. I think I stand out (and others tell me this as well) because I am very full of life (energetic) and do not worry too much about what others think I can or should do. This does not mean that I lack listening skills or that I am selfish, but once I make up my mind about what I think is best for me, I become extremely determined. I just follow my heart and brain the best I can and have no desire to be what others might want me to be.

My father is a 747 pilot, flying cargo to various countries around the world. He has a bachelors in English and is also proficient in German. My mother is a paralegal at a law firm in Denver and is very skilled at her career. My grandfather from my father's side was a high level personnel manager for the Department of Defense until he retired several years back.

Your Teenage Years:

Describe yourself as a teenager: I was very driven in dance. I loved to just be out of the house and out doing things

Describe your achievements: I managed to make it through high school without doing drugs or taking a negative path. I was very talented in dance and was on a varsity dance team

Did you do poorly at anything? I had a hard time paying attention in class. My lack of attention in high school was definitely environmental. I was very social and active and at times had a hard time focusing when surrounded by friends. I became more focused when I entered college and it has not been a problem since.

Did you have any problems as a teenager (e.g., health, acne, social, educational, etc.)? No

What do you hope to achieve by volunteering in an egg donor program? (e.g., emotionally, financially): I want to make a family's dream of having a child within reach. Having a child is the most amazing thing in the world, and I want to give that to a couple who sincerely wants a baby.

What message would you like passed on to the recipient of your eggs/their offspring? Do not let time fly by you. Enjoy every second and every little thing about pregnancy, because it is one of the most miraculous things that will happen to you. They grow up so incredibly fast, don't let yourself forget the little things. Don't take anything for granted. Enjoy every second, including sleepless nights, because you will miss it when it's over. I would prefer that the offspring not be told that the recipient is not their mother. When a baby grows inside of you, you are its mother.

What helped you decide to become an egg donor? my husband and my babies

Do you consider yourself a reliable person? Very. One of the best things you can be as a friend, spouse or parent is to be reliable

Do you consider yourself a punctual person? Yes.

Would you describe yourself as a religious or spiritual person? Spiritual

Do you have any ethical, moral or religious reservations about being an egg donor? No

What are your personal goals? Have you achieved any of these goals? To do everything with my best effort, and being an outstanding mom to my kids. I achieve both on a daily basis

What do you see yourself doing in the next 5-10 years? When my kids go to school, I would like to go back to school

What would you like your recipient couple to know about you that has not already been asked? I have been told my whole life that I stand out from the average person in a very good way. I have always loved the arts. I took a painting class in high school and the teacher loved my work. One of my pictures was even displayed at the entrance of my very large high school. I began dance in kindergarten. I have trained in tap, ballet and jazz. I danced through my senior year of high school and was especially talented at ballet. From middle school through high school I danced 4-5 days per week and competed in competitions yearly including the New York City Dance Alliance. I made a spot on the Varsity Poms team my freshman year of high school. Poms could be closely compared to a professional football team's dance/cheerleaders. We wore cheerleader uniforms but instead of doing gymnastics and stunts, we danced on the sidelines and performed at half time. I went to state competition 2 of the 4 years and also attended the national competition at Disney World in Florida. I was very passionate about ballet and my teachers always loved me. I was told that it came very naturally to me and I moved up in levels quickly. Toward the end of high school I was told by my ballet instructors that I could possibly join a ballet school instead of an ordinary college. Although I love ballet, I have always dreamed of becoming a nurse and still plan to pursue that as my career. As far as singing, I have always enjoyed it and as a little girl took every chance I could to sing and perform for my mom's friends. I have always enjoyed the spotlight and love to entertain people by performing. I have been told that I can sing well and briefly in the past took singing lessons. I have also been told that there is an innocence about me that is wonderful. I am gullible and could easily be taken advantage of. I am also very tender hearted. I absolutely love animals.

What is your favorite color?     brown    

Favorite type of food?     crab    

Favorite movie?     meet the fockers    

Favorite type of music?     80's    

Favorite Book?     of mice and men    

Would you be willing to donate to gay or single prospective parents?     either     Please specify:

Would you be willing to meet a child conceived as the result of your donation?     no     Please elaborate:

Would you be interested in possibly meeting the prospective parents? I would actually prefer to remain anonymous but I am willing to meet the perspective parents if that is one of their requirements.

What are your beliefs concerning selective reduction or aborting a fetus due to an anomaly(s) (birth defect)?

I do not have a specific belief. These decisions should be left to the pregnant mother

How do you feel about the possibility of any remaining embryos being donated to another infertile couple that cannot afford the cost of infertility treatment? Will you sign a consent permitting such donation?

Absolutely, I would be happy to

How do you feel about any remaining embryos being discarded or donated to scientific research? Will you sign a consent permitting such medical or scientific research?

Yes

Some clinics have their Prospective Parents sign away rights to any left over embryos to be used at the clinic's discretion, how do you feel about not knowing the outcome of their decision?

strongly in favor of knowing

What are your thoughts on the possibility of this couple using a gestational carrier (surrogate) or a qualified sperm donor?

No problem with it

Is there a message you would like to leave for your prospective parents?     Only the same message I left above. And it is my privilege to help you achieve your goal as becoming a parent. It makes me so happy to be able to give someone the joy I have had the privilege to experience for myself, thank you

When I had an endoscopy performed, it showed that I had a few very small ulcers as a result of acid. They treated them with some type of medication and they have not returned. The migraines started shortly after I was in a car accident in high school, which placed a high amount of stress on me at the time. I was not physically injured in the accident, but I was told by a specialist that the accident (and anxiety caused by it) could have triggered the migraines. I was treated with medication a few years ago and have not had a migraine since. I am not sure why my father gets migraines, but my guess would be due to high levels of stress due to his job.
